The Senior Class

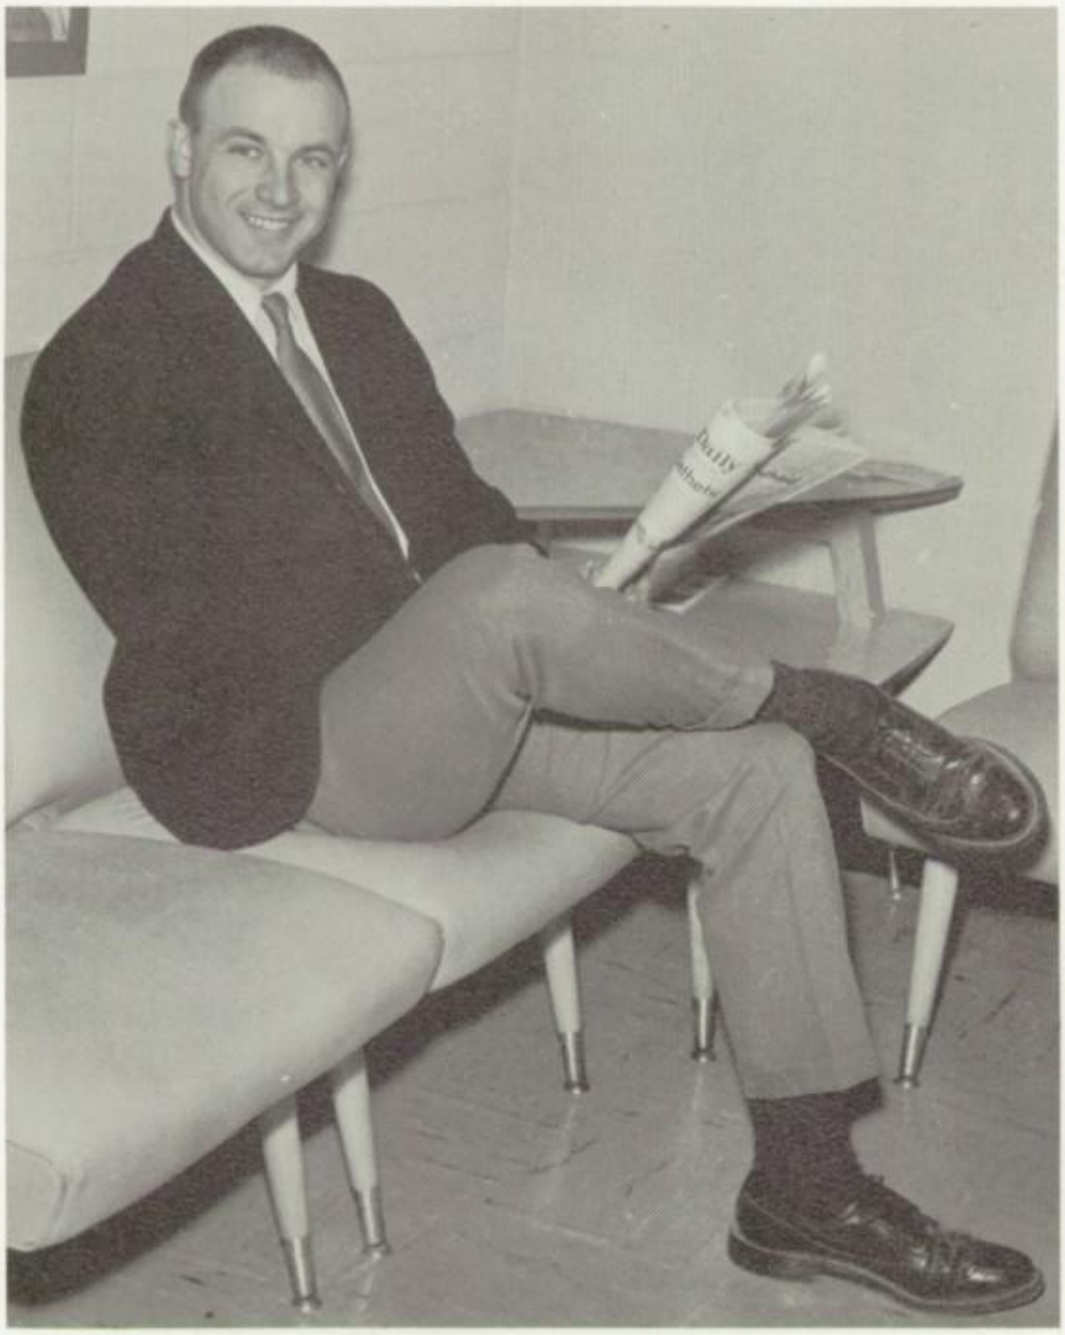
James Simpson

In September, 1966, Mr. Simpson came to Coleman High School as Athletic Coach, Boys' Physical Education, and World Geography instructor. In addition to his regular teaching duties, Mr. Simpson is the advisor of the CHS Varsity Club; as well as, gym director of noon-hour activities.

Though many hours have been spent in conditioning the mighty Comets to a number of victories, Mr. Simpson has, through many pep talks, helped all students realize the meaning of "Good Sportsmanship."

We, the Senior Class, dedicate this yearbook to you, Mr. Simpson, with a sincere "thank you."

Salutes . . . .



Gailen Petersen

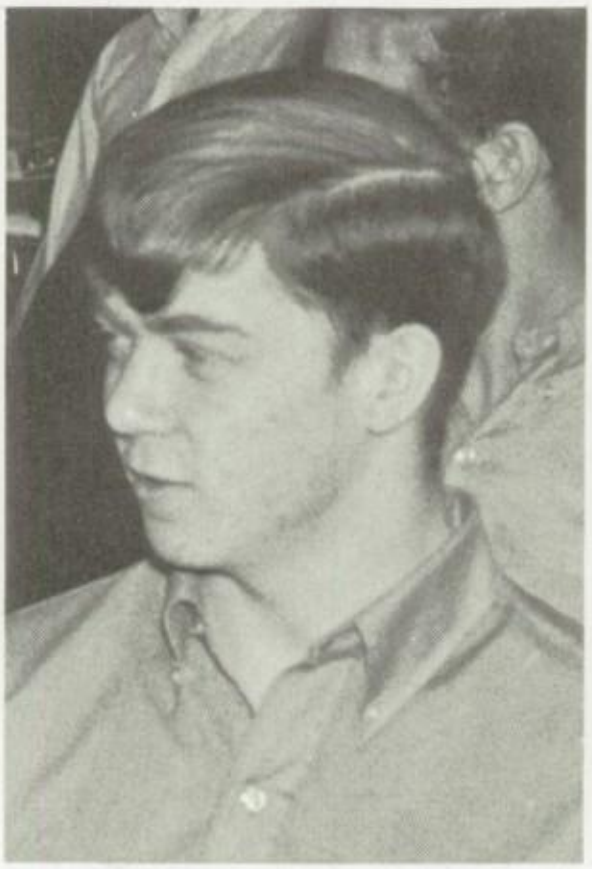
Mr. Petersen, Industrial Arts instructor, started his teaching career at Coleman High School in September, 1966, when he taught a half day and attended CMU a half day.

At the present time, Mr. Petersen teaches Mechanical Drawing I and II, Industrial Education II, and supervises a study hall; and in the spring, he coaches the CHS golf team.

Besides being a friend and counselor to his students, Mr. Petersen has unselfishly given his time and energy to help his students prepare for a more meaningful life in the future.

It is, with these happy thoughts in mind, that the Class of '69 dedicates its book of memories to a "great teacher."

In Memory of



Don Shocknesse

1950-1968

We never know when God will claim again
A jewel loaned to gladden us awhile.
We cannot tell what new-blown bud He'll choose
To bloom in His eternal garden plot.
We string our pearls to sparkle in June's sun,
Except for one that God has made His own;
And we, who grow to see our flowering,
Lament a rose that was--but now is not.

--Henry W. Colebank

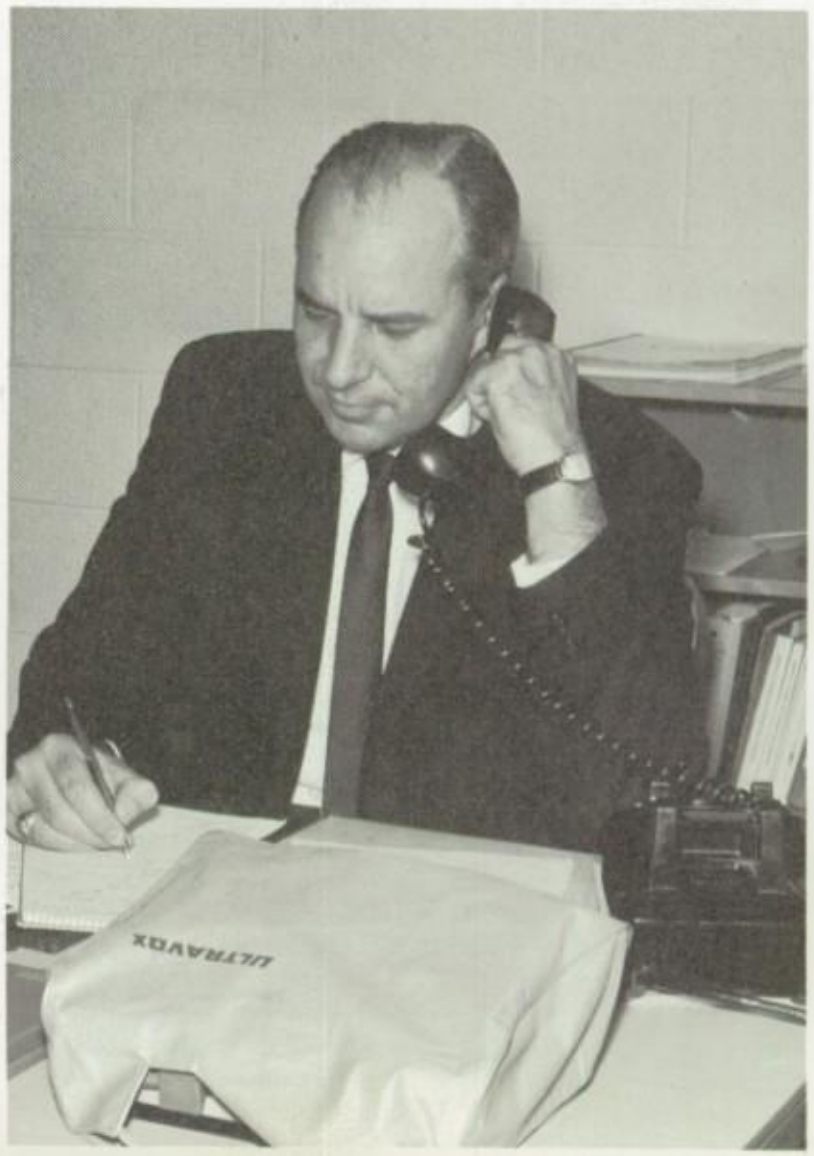
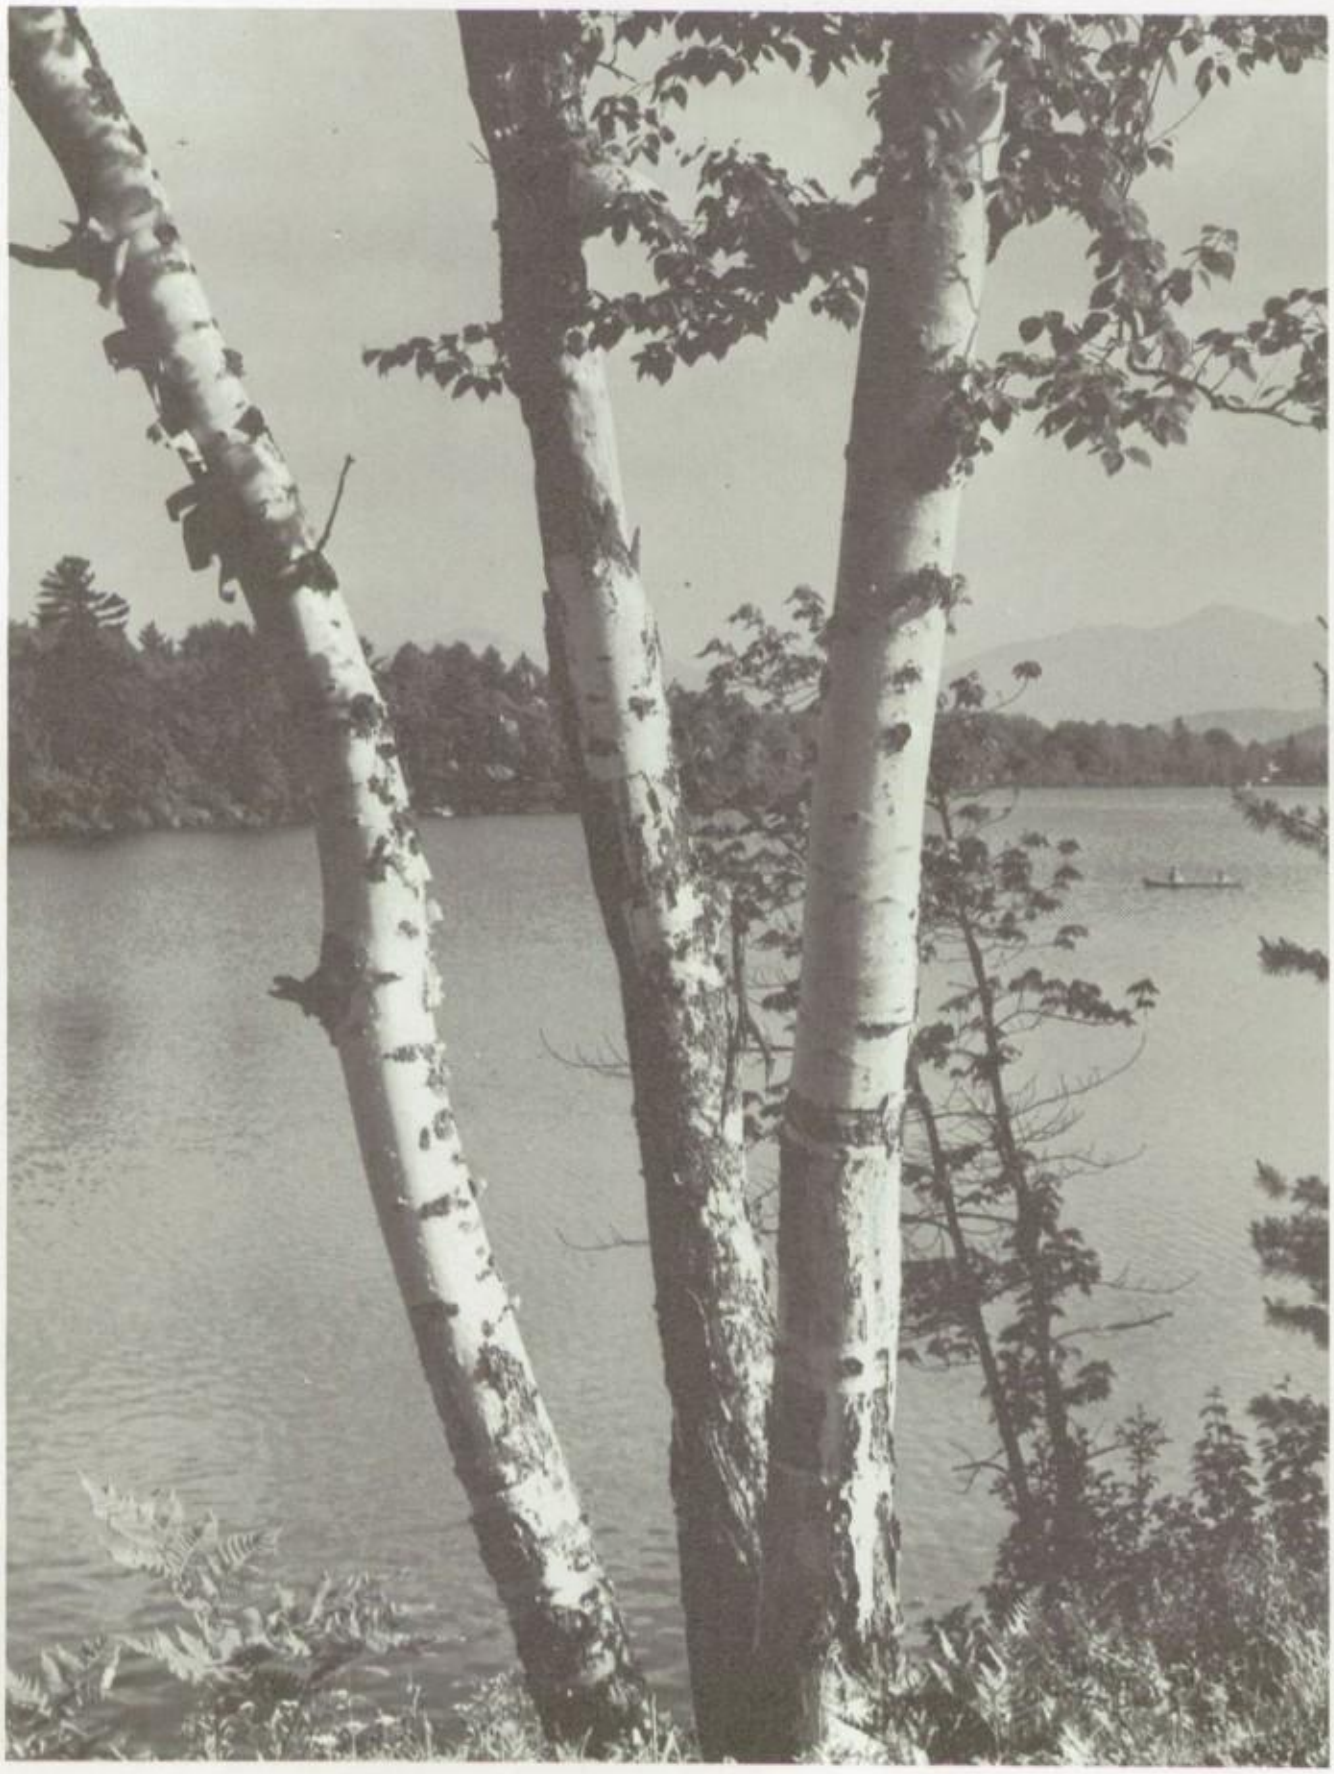
Mr. Olds opened the doors of Coleman High School September 5, 1968, to further the education of each student.

Mr. Olds is our new principal at the High School. He received his B.S. degree from Northern Michigan University, and his M.A. degree from the University of Michigan. He was assistant principal at Mt. Clemens High School for five years prior to coming to Coleman. At Mt. Clemens, Mr. Olds was in charge of attendance, discipline, and building and staff supervision.



PERSONNEL



For six years, BARB BOYCE worked as the secretary of our High School. She worked under three different principals: Mr. Budge, Mr. Montgomery, and Mr. Olds. Barb enjoyed working with the students and teachers very much.

She left the High School October 10, 1968, to work in Midland for the Dow Corning Corporation.

Best Wishes Barb

MRS. EILA BOLAN started her new job as High School Secretary to Mr. Olds October 14, 1968.

She attended Midland High School and was a secretary at the Dow Chemical Company for eighteen years.

Mrs. Bolan is very happy with her new position as our school secretary.

Welcome Mrs. Bolan

AND . . . .

Sharon Lueders, Sharon Nestor, Shonda Sasse, Brian Donahue, Jean Vogel, Jonita Strauch, and Bernadette Foldesi serve us our hot and hearty meals;

WHILE . . . .

Vicky Horton, Mary Aultman, Dirk Sprenger, Marilyn Kruger, Rose Jenkins, and Barb Jackson carry lunches to the Intermediate School by way of a small school bus to serve their hungry students.

Mrs. Howe explains to the STUDENT LIBRARIANS their special duties while Janette Murray, Brenda Bathke, Linda Onweller, Alice Bradley, Vonda Jenkins, Sheila Moore, Jean Stenger, Brian Donahue, Bernadette Foldesi, Shelva Berthume, Judy Laney, and Janet Fike all look on.

Mrs. Forest Crum joined the High School staff in September.

She works as Mrs. Howe's assistant in the C.H.S. library, types, takes charge of the library fourth hour, and supervises the C.H.S. halls during the noon hour.

C.H.S. students welcome Mrs. Crum and hope she finds her job interesting and rewarding.

Our Devoted Janitors

Mr. Laity

An orderly school depends greatly upon the people who keep it so. C.H.S. has two such people, MR. LAITY and MR. MARTINEZ.

These two men work long and many hard hours to keep our high school in tip-top shape.

We enter school in September with floors shining and our classrooms sparkling to greet us.

Many of the C.H.S. students fail to give credit where credit is due. So, we, the Senior Class, would like to give a special thanks to MR. LAITY and MR. MARTINEZ for keeping our High School in accurate running order; and a place we, the Senior Class, can be proud to say we attended.

MOCK ELECTIONS

Coleman students practice what they learn. Following the examples of their parents, Senior students held a mock election for the student body of Coleman High School.

Counselors's Corner

Mr. Misner came to Coleman High School in the fall of 1968 as high school guidance counselor.

His main objective is to give guidance to all students in helping them solve personal problems concerning school and given individual help toward higher education and future employment.

It is hoped that Mr. Misner's first year as counselor has proved to be as worthwhile to him as to all the high school students.

Acknolwedgements . . . . . .

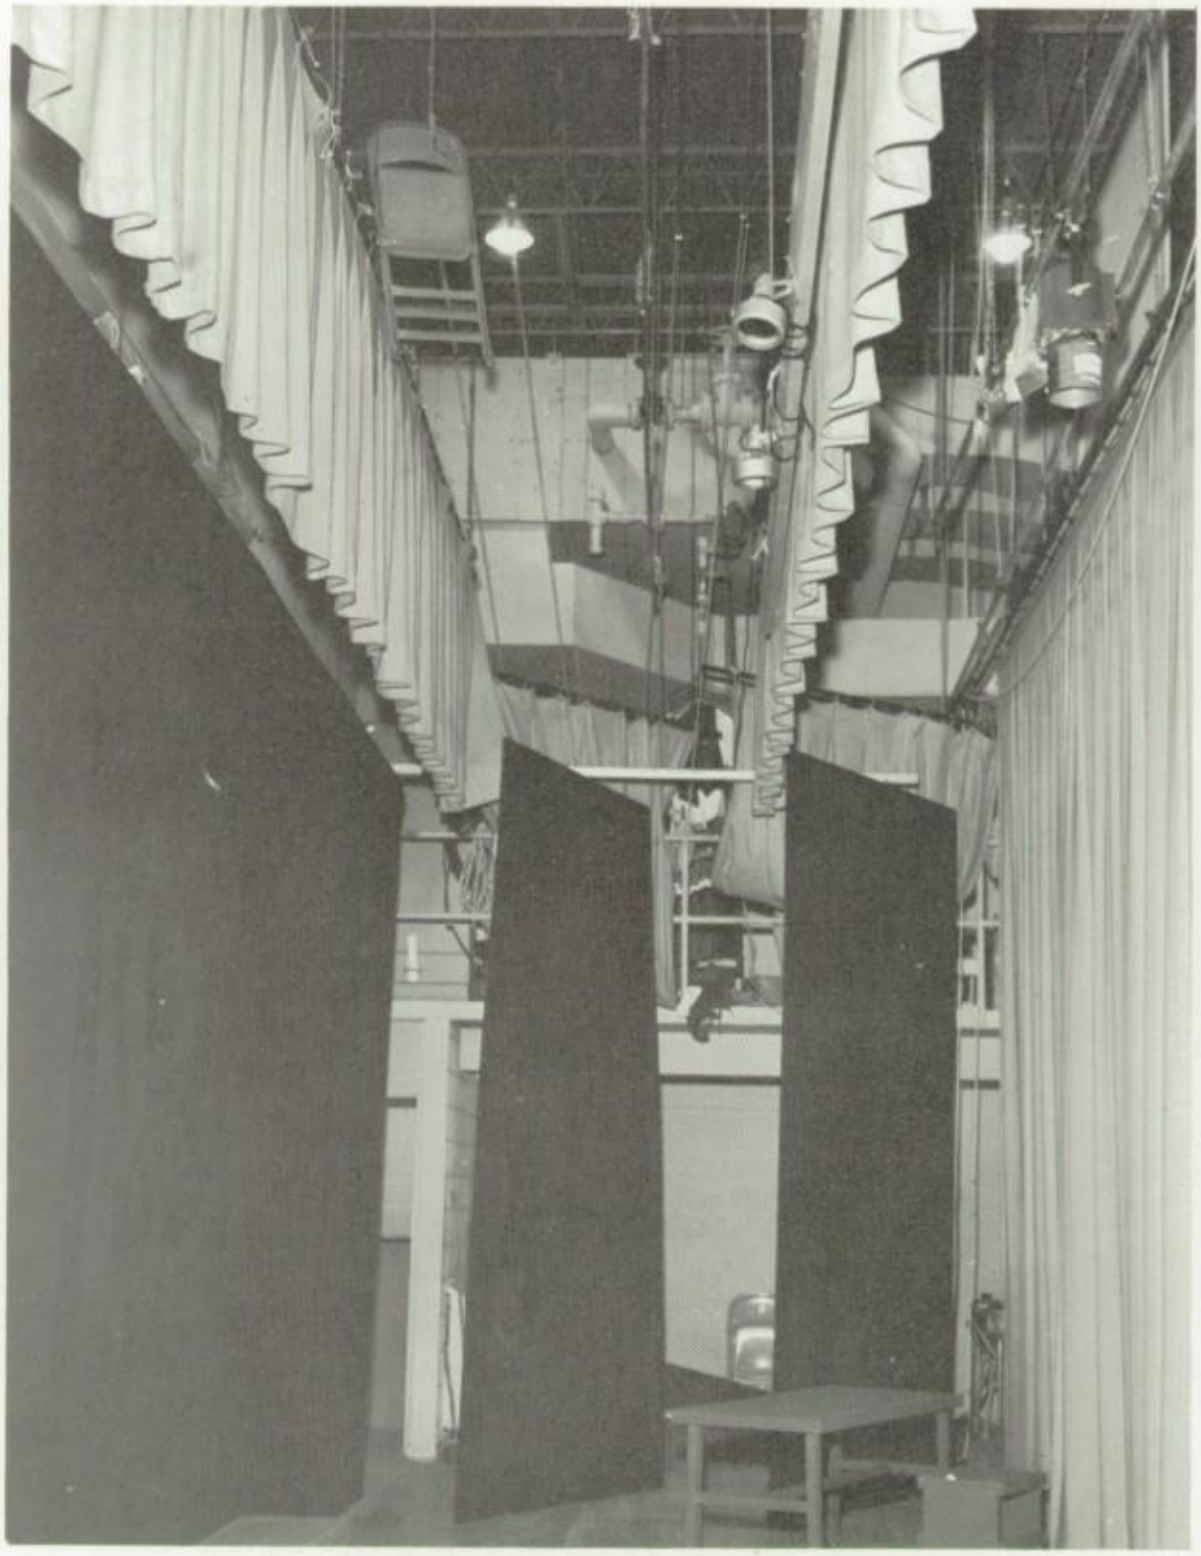
The book of memories you hold in your hands represents many hours of work by people behind the scenes planning and organizing to make an annual really possible.

The '69 Annual Staff wishes to express its deepest gratitude to Miss Bloom for the kindness and the help she gave throughout the school year.

A special thanks to Mr. Leonard Hawks of Guys and Dolls Photography for the "super" photographs and suggestions to make the annual a success.

To all non-members, a warm thank you for all the help given the staff throughout the year, and . . .

It is with the deepest hope that the students and the faculty of CH S will find this year's annual a great reminder of the year '69.



The sun has fully arisen now,
and our journey has just begun.
The time we left behind us,
things learned and done.

Old faces turn to new faces,
a life and world anew.
The time we spent has filled our life,
with things we never knew.

And I'm sure we'll all remember,
our school, our games, and friends.
But isn't life just one big school,
where learning never ends.

Coleman's majorettes are the leaders of the C.H.S. Marching Band. They are led by head majorette Diane Vining. They lead the band at all home football games, help to present the flag at the Pep Assemblies, and at half time at the home basketball games. They, while in regular class time, are, also, members of the C.H.S. band.

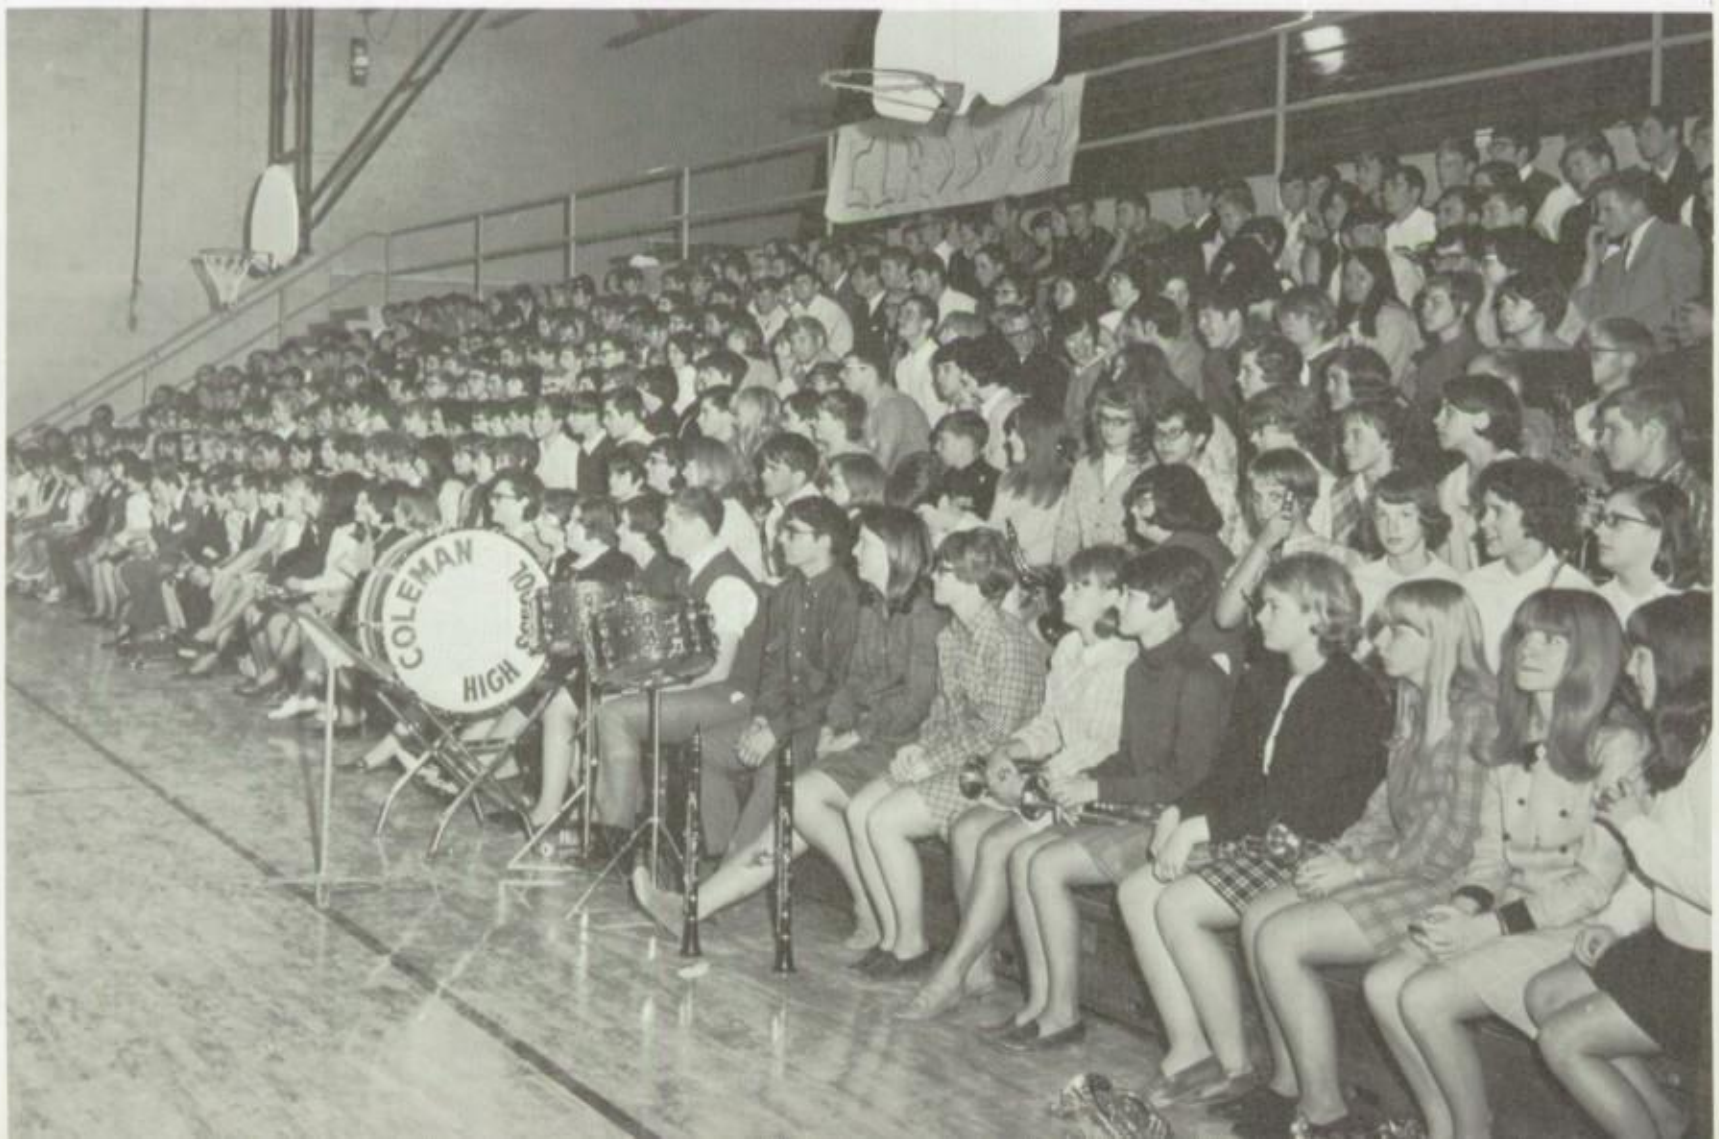
Our homecoming pep assembly always starts off with the presentation of our flag. It is being presented by Candy Hopkins, Alan Campbell, and Becky Jenkins.

Coach Falor gives us a few words about our opponent, Clare, while his assistant, Mr. Johnston, looks on.

Students of C. H. S. eagerly await the announcement of our Homecoming Queen.



Cheers and tears were the reactions of C. H. S. students as Doreen Bills was announced 1968 Homecoming Queen.

Through a mist of tears all Doreen could say was "thank you."

Queen 'Doreen's Crowning

Doreen Bills represented Coleman High School's student body as their 1968 Homecoming Queen.

She was announced Queen at the pep assembly by Coach Jerry Falor.

Doreen was our official Queen when she received her crown during half-time festivities by Robert Kerr, President of the Coleman School Board.

Loren Huss, Student Council President had the honor of presenting Queen Doreen with one dozen long stemmed red roses.

And Mr. Kerr had the greatest honor of all, getting to kiss our 1968 Homecoming Queen.

In the past five years, Mr. Henry Colebank has taken over the job of directing Coleman High School's class plays; and in the last three years, he has helped in various ways with our all school musicals.

Mr. Colebank has seen our Senior Class through two successful plays. As Juniors, we produced "Twilight Walk"; and as Seniors, "The Crucible."

It is not easy to undertake the job of a director. It means many nights away from your family, lots of hard work, faithfulness, and determination to produce the best plays yet.

When the night of performance closes in, we get our make-up on to portray a certain character, as Mr. Colebank reassures us that he knows we will be a great success and produce the very best play Coleman has ever seen. His last words to all cast members before the curtain opens is, "Break a leg."

And we sure must have, because the Seniors are positive we could never have had such successful plays without the help and understanding of the greatest of play directors, Mr. Colebank.

So to you, Mr. Colebank, we say thank you for your kindness and faithfulness to our class.

SENIORS

You have worked, played, cried, and agonized together for many years. Now you will separate - some of you forever. Yet, you cannot really divorce yourselves from each other or from the millions of your human brethren you have never seen. Now, if ever, you must work together if you would rescue your generation from a situation, not of your making, but yours nevertheless.

I have seen you reach the epitome of unified accomplishment. The teamwork that made this possible in "The Crucible" is a prime same spirit at white heat if you are going to hammer out the effort to forge your links in the chain of universal brotherhood.

Robert Frost has stated well how men may work together, though separated by space and time. In his poem, "The Tuft of Flowers," he writes:

I went to turn the grass after one
Who mowed it in the dew before the sun.

The dew was gone that made his blade so keen
Before I came to view the leveled scene.

I looked for him behind an isle of trees;
I listened for his whetstone on the breeze.

But he had gone his way, the grass all mown,
And I must be, as he had been, -- alone.

'As all must be,' I said within my heart,
'Whether they work together or apart.'

But as I said it, swift there passed me by
On noiseless wing a bewildered butterfly,

Seeking with memories grown dim o'ver night
Some resting flower of yesterday's delight.

And then he flew as far as eye could see,
And then on tremulous wing came back to me.

I thought of questions that have no reply,
And would have turned to toss the grass to dry;

But he turned first and led my eye to look
At a tall tuft of flowers beside a brook,

A leaping tongue of bloom the scythe had spared
Beside a reedy brook the scythe had bared.

The mower in the dew had loved them thus,
By leaving them to flourish, not for us,

Nor yet to draw one thought of ours to him,
But from sheer morning gladness at the brim.

The butterfly and I had lit upon,
Nevertheless, a message from the dawn,

That made me hear the walking birds around,
And hear his long scythe whispering to the ground,

And feel a spirit kindred to my own;
So that henceforth I worked no more alone;

But glad with him, I worked as with his aid,
And weary, sought at noon with him the shade;

And dreaming, as it were, held brotherly speech
With one whose thought I had not hoped to reach.

'Men work together', I told him from the heart,
'Whether they work together or apart'.

This is my wish for all of you. I urge you, with all of the sincerity of who love you, to make the theme of this poem your creed.

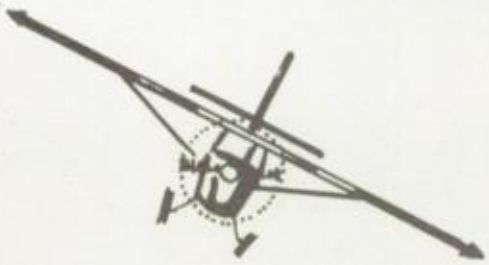
Finnish and Brazilian Friendships Grow at Coleman High



This year, in Coleman, will be one of the best years in my life. I found Coleman a very friendly and smiling town. I will have a lot of good memories from everything here. I heard that this school would be very nice, but I never could have imagined that it could be this nice. The school spirit is something that I will never forget, and I wish we had something like this in our school.

You have given me good experiences, and I have learned a lot of new things.

Somebody said that "we are always responsible for those whom we captivate." You are responsible for me, because you have captivated me with your love and your friendship. I have to go back to my land, but you can be sure that one part of my heart will remain here, with you.

Your friend,

Maija
